It asserts that all individuals with intellectual disability are people first with the right to lead their lives like any other individual. It covers all aspects of life, including health, housing, paid employment, personalisation, transition, advocacy and relationships, and utilises a multidisciplinary person-centred approach.
Syndrome Sheets, The Society for the Study of Behavioural Phenotypes (SSBP)	https://ssbp.org.uk/syndrome-sheets/ Certain genetic disorders that cause intellectual disability are associated with particular patterns of behaviour called behavioural phenotypes. Becoming familiar with behavioural phenotypes can help interpret symptoms and formulate management plans. The SSBP have created a portfolio of Syndrome Sheets, written by members with specific expertise in the treatment of a variety of syndromes.
